

TruCryo Limited and the Kaasen Device

28/04/2025 4:07 pm BST

TruCryo Limited, headquartered in Shrewsbury, Shropshire, stands at the forefront of cryotherapy innovation with its flagship product, the Kaasen cryotherapy device. Designed and manufactured entirely in the UK, Kaasen exemplifies British engineering excellence, offering a portable and versatile solution for targeted cryostimulation across various sectors.

A British Innovation in Cryotherapy

Since its inception in 2015, TruCryo has been dedicated to developing advanced cryotherapy solutions. The Kaasen device utilises pressurised carbon dioxide (CO₂) to deliver rapid cooling to the skin and underlying tissues, inducing a localised cold shock response. This process stimulates vasoconstriction followed by vasodilation, promoting increased blood flow, reduced inflammation, and accelerated recovery.

Versatility Across Multiple Disciplines

Kaasen's adaptability makes it suitable for a wide range of applications:

- Physical Therapy & Sports Medicine: Assists in pain relief, reduces swelling, and enhances muscle recovery.
- Aesthetics: Offers treatments for skin tightening, wrinkle reduction, and body sculpting.
- Equine Therapy: Provides targeted treatments for horses, addressing issues like muscle strains and inflammation.

The device's portability and ease of use allow practitioners to deliver treatments in various settings, from clinics to on-site locations.

Commitment to Quality and Safety

TruCryo ensures that each Kaasen device meets stringent quality standards. Features include dual temperature sensors, a thermal shock indicator, and intelligent proximity sensors to guarantee safe and effective treatments. Comprehensive training is provided with every unit, ensuring practitioners are well-equipped to utilise the device effectively.

Global Reach with Local Roots

While TruCryo's operations are firmly rooted in the UK, the company's impact is global. Kaasen devices are utilised by professionals worldwide, reflecting the company's commitment to delivering high-quality British-engineered solutions to the international market.

For more information about TruCryo Limited and the Kaasen cryotherapy device, visit their official

